

Ibi River / Neo River Flood Inundation Risk Area Map (Assumed Largest Scale)

This Flood Inundation Risk Area Map shows which areas can be flooded up to how many meters, and where evacuation shelters are located when the Ibi and Neo Rivers are flooded due to the largest possible rainfall (rainfall with a probability of occurring once every 1,000 years: total rainfall of 667 mm for 2 days) and inundated due to an embankment breakage.

Please be aware that a flood may occur even if it is outside the flood inundation risk area shown on this map, depending on how it rains.
